Junior Senior Banquet

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was held on Saturday, May 6, in the I. O. O. F. hall. As you stepped into the hall, it was like stepping into a beautiful soft moonlight night. Over head rainbow-colored streamers were hung and looped in an artistic fashion. A huge silver sprinkling can carried out the theme of spring.

Each table had a center piece of tea roses, placed in silver and gold sprinkling cans. For favors, each guest was presented with a tiny lamp of perfume. Our thoughts flew back to the giant sprinkling can as soon as we saw the small identical cans filled with candy and nuts placed at each plate. Tapers of pastel color provided a soft glowing light. The candles were festooned with ribbons to create the ever popular may pole.

The following program was presented:

Welcome

Class Will

Janice Anderjaska

Prophecy

I got so tired of sitting on a cloud and playing my harp day after day. I had played every song I could think of, even "Open the Door Richard." So I asked permission from Saint Peter to visit my old high school friends.

I started to earth and before I knew it I was in Hayes Center. My! how that town has changed. The bank now covers one whole block.

I had just started up main street when I was accosted by a dirty, ragged bum. I recognized Lerly Richards. He had lost all of his money at Culbertson when there was a fake gold rush back in 1980. Now none of his friends would help him, due to his marriage to a fan dancer back in 1955.

When I was about to enter the drug store I noticed a sign on a near-by tent--"Have Your Future Told and See Old Solomon, the Trained Owl. My curiosity got the better of me and I entered the tent. Imagine my surprise to see Marcella Palic making her living by crystal gazing. She has her pet owl with her, who sits on her head and helps her read the crystal ball-- she claims she has made a fortune at her profession.

As it was getting near lunch time I went into one of the cafes and saw a man sitting there, who looked very familiar. It was Jack Schuman, he is one of the guys most in demand in Hollywood, as a director and modern Romeo. From the looks of things, it appears that Jack's quiet days are over.

Noticing a hand bill for a girls' baseball game in the afternoon and having never seen one I decided to go. After finding my seat in the huge stadium, which Hayes Center had built, I noticed the line-up and of all people Charles Peterson was the manager. His star pitcher is Donna Strop and has she ever got curves to her pitching.

As I was just departing from the stadium I saw a man completely surrounded by girls. As I got closer I recognized him as Carl Kittle, who has taken the place of Frank Sinatra. The girls really swoon when he sings.

I passed by an air-conditioned theater and as it was about 100 in the shade I decided to go in. The main star was, you guessed it, Bryce Fornoff, the hammiest, ham actor on stage and screen. The big movie producers say Bryce is so valuable, they have to give him three meals a day, a park bench to sleep on, and a ticket to the movies so he can see his idol of the screen, Louise McNutt, who has taken the place of Marjorie Maine.

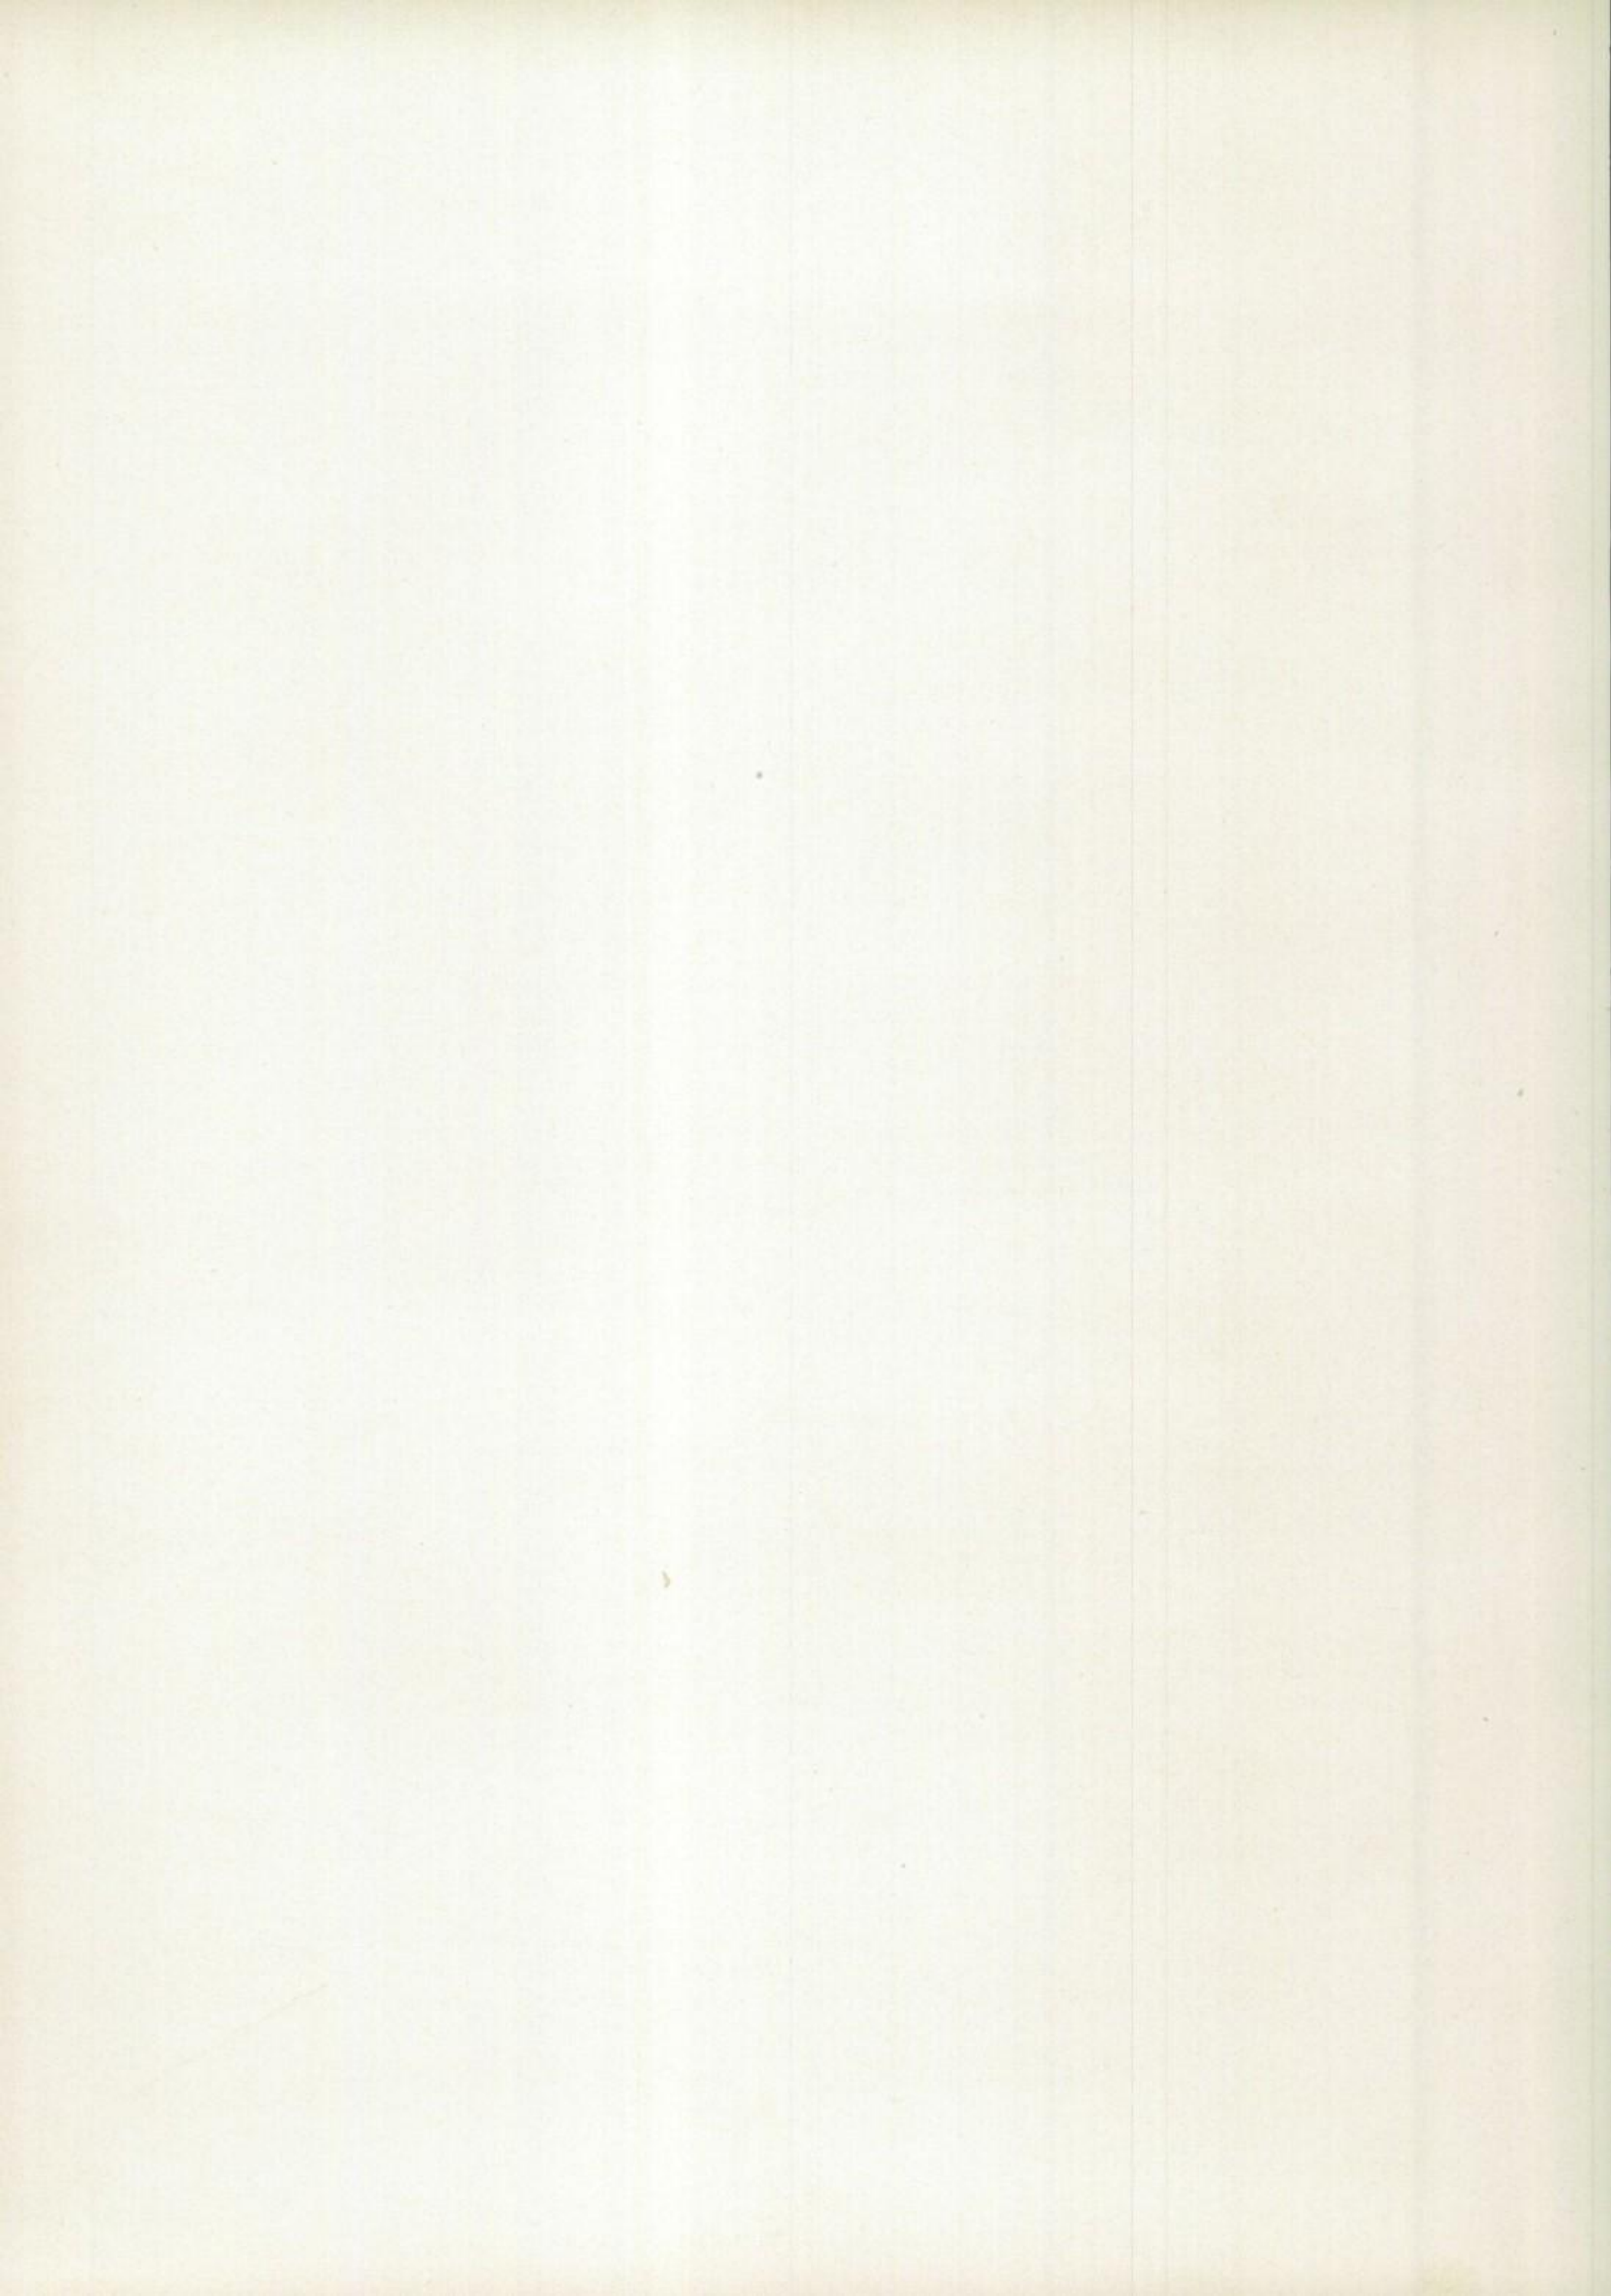

I bought a newspaper and turning to the society column I found that Charlotte Snoke was suing her 5th husband, the great-grandson of Clark Gable for divorce. He had the habit of eating crackers in bed.

In the very same paper I was reading some very wise answers to the love-lorn. The name at the conclusion was a very familiar one--Corrinne Burkert. She seems to know all of the answers, guess that her experience in high school must have been a big help to her.

Seeing a new building which I had never noticed before I decided to investigate. Norma Curran greeted me at the door and told me that she was running a very successful school for girls. In this school girls learn how to treat their boy friends. It seems she always treated Marvin pretty badly, and he finally got fed up and left so she is still an old maid.

Norma told me that Joyce and Jerry Anderjaska are now multi-millionaires and living in a swanky pent-house in Florida. They recently had quintuplets and the large business houses are paying huge sums to use their names in their advertisements.

I watched a man walking down the street, bent over until his head almost touched the ground. Of all people it turned out to be Dale Fagerstone, he said that he was a scientist, and had recently counted the grains of sand in the Great Salt Lake, which accounted for his humped position. He says that he owes all of his scientific knowledge to his former chemistry teacher, the Honorable Joseph Hanzal.

Hearing a big commotion down the street, I went to see what was going on. Lylas Hudson was being crowned Number One Headache of the Navy. It seems she is still trying to find some way to get her husband out of the navy.

Roberta Keefer has gone places, with men that is, since she acquired her technique of luring men away from other women. She is now on the loose. It seems that she hasn't been getting so many dates lately tho. She is thinking of changing her technique.

Observing a nice cafe and as I am always hungry I went in. There sat Bonnie Jean Richter at the piano playing boogie-woogie, just as fast as she could. There's still one way she hasn't changed tho, she is still a man hater. All except for one man that is.

Laura Nitsch has divorced Bob to marry her rich merchant in New York. She says she's going back to Bob tho because Janie French has dubs on all the millionaires in New York. Janie always did attract men. She hasn't changed a bit.

I was doing some window shopping when a large car rolled up to the curb and stopped. Who do you think stepped out--Dean Hansen!! He said he had just married Rita Hayworth about a year ago. It seems that none of the girls in Palisade would have him so just to show them he stole Rita away from Ala. His motto: "If Ala Khan so can I."

Just as I was passing by a grocery store someone came hurrying out, and nearly knocked me down. It was Verda Richter. She said that she and Ronald Loomis has liked beinb married so well in the Senior play that they decided to try it in real life. Oh! by the way Ronald is now head man over a bunch of street cleaners. It was a hard sweep up but he finally made it.

Arlis Wilson is now a champion lady wrestler. People say she is really good at draining the life out of a person.

I walked on up the street and noticed a large neon sign, "Pete's Den" over a modern establishment. I thought this must be quite a place so I walked on inside. I saw Ruth Peterson puffing on a big cigar. She was the owner of this night-club, which featured a famous show from hollywood. Loretta Kolbet was outstanding in a Hula dance.

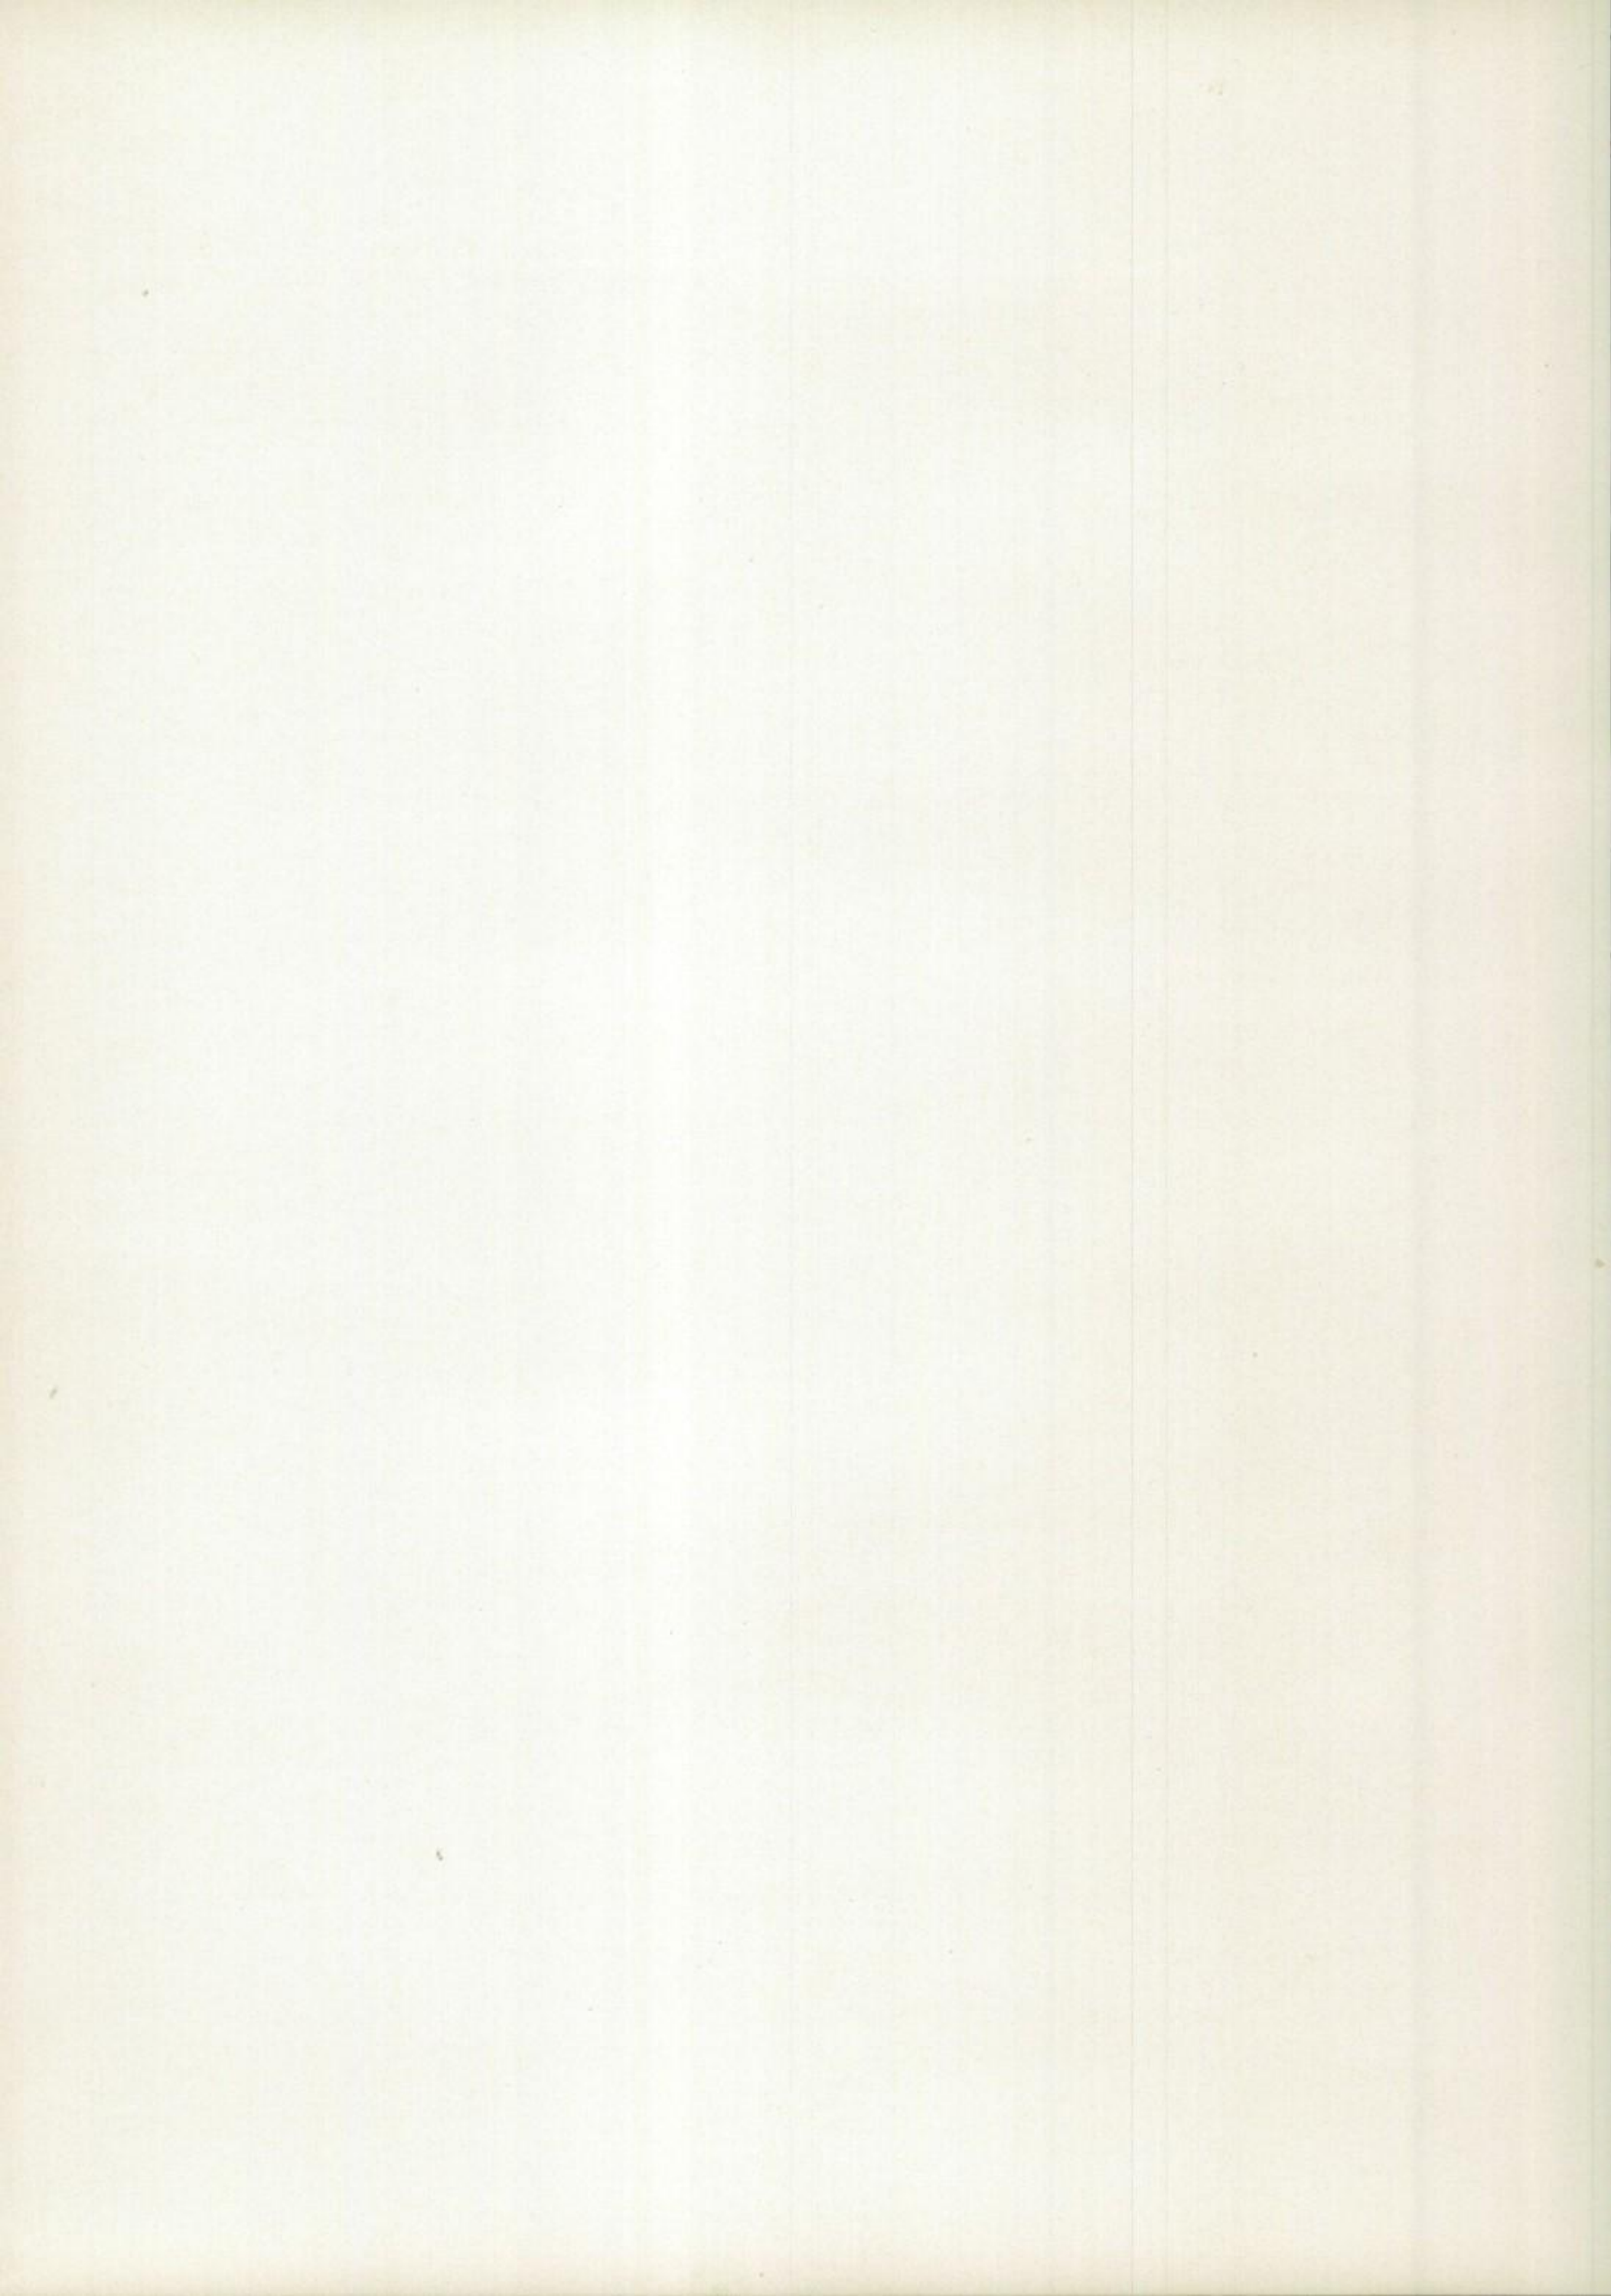

I noticed Doris Nelms and Joe sitting at one of the tables. She said that they werent married yet and that she believed in long engagements. My! how a person does change their mind.

Spike Jones' orchestra was playing here and I really enjoyed watching Rodger Gigax playing the washboard. When I saw Mr. Hanzal at one of the tables with a camera, I decided to see what he was doing. He said that he was one of those guys called a news-hound. He decided that was the occupation for him since he always was getting the scoop when he taught school. He told me that since Mrs. Counce had lost so much weight, and her figure is so-so, she started taking dancing lessons, and is one of the most exciting and famous of all ballet dancers. Mr. Hanzal also told me that Miss Ehler is soliciting for funds to build a home for orphan dogs. Her big old dog, Rover, due to her good feeding passed away and she has erected a beautiful tombstone over his grave. She makes a daily visit to his grave to place fresh sunflowers on it.

It seems that Mrs. Chambers was giving the Studebaker Auto Company so much business by bragging on them that the president of the firm came out to see her. It was love at first sight. Now she has all the Studebakers she wants.

Mr. Rhoades has changed from teaching to politics. He is now trying to pass a bill for higher wages for teachers and better roads for western Nebraska.

Mr. Hanley is now a guide in the Black Hills. He guarantees no snow to kids on Sneak day. He said that he was going to attempt to hire Bryce, Whitey and Rodger to operate a taxi line, as they have had considerable experience in getting taxis through snow drifts, in fact they claim to be experts. I hope that they are careful as I wouldn't be where I am now if I hadn't been learning to drive.

 Second Row; Denna Strop, Bonnie Richter, Verda Richter, Chas. Petersen, Bryce Forneff, S. B. Hanley.
 Bottom Row; Charlotte Snoke, Maxine LaShell, Ruth Petersen, Jane French, Corrinne Burkert.

 Jane Foley, their teen-age daughter
 Alice Foley, their 20 year-old daughter
 Don Foley, their son, a pre-med senior
 Walter Graham, his classmate
 Gunda, the Foley Norwegian maid
 Mrs. Fletcher, a nosey neighbor
 Fisty McGuire, the kid-boxer
 Ear Drummond, his ex-fighter manager
 Clarence Clayton, a Hollywood talent scout
 Carol Davenport, a beautiful woman editor
 Mr. Campbell, a young married man
 Mrs. Campbell, his wife
 Bunny Mattson, an aspiring young actress
 Officer, a policeman

 Carl Kittle
 Charles Petersen
 Corrinne Burkert
 Maxine LaShell
 Dale Fagerstene
 Jack Schuman
 Bryce Fornoff
 Jane French

 Dean Hansen

The play opens with Mr. and Mrs. Foley preparing to leave on a convention trip to Chicago. Gunda, the Norwegian housemaid, is looking forward to a well-earned vacation, just doing nothing around the house. The Foley daughters, Jane, a high school senior, and Alice who works in her father's office, soon upset all the peace and quiet by renting out their parent's room while they are absent. Jane whose ambition is to get into the local Ice Follies, needs a new skating suit and thinks that renting the room is the quickest and easiest way to raise the money. Alice is sympathetic and helps solicit the co-operation of Gunda. However, things begin to get complicated when too many renters move in and overrun the house.

Soon, a Hollywood talent scout arrives, complete with baggage and camera, and not only takes up residence in the bedroom, but also uses the living room for auditions. Bunny Mattson arrives for an audition. Into this scene walks Mrs. Foley's younger sister, who is arriving for a visit. To further complicate matter, Fisty McGuire and Ear Drummond the future boxing champion and his manager, answer the ad and take up training quarters in the Foley home. Then the son, Don, a premed student, and Walt, his classmate arrive home for an unannounced vacation from school. Mr. and Mrs. Foley return after being unable to secure accommodations at any hotel in Chicago.

Things finally get unraveled and end happily. Mr. Foley, who has been forced to sleep in the parlor on the sofa and let the renters use his bed, is made a hero over the renting incident, when the local paper lauds his good-neighbor act. Jane gets her "break" in the Ice Follies. Alice is not only crowned Queen of the Winter Carnival, but is chosen by the talent scout as one of the movie-test winners. Aunt Carol becomes engaged to the talent scout and everyone is happy.

The class of '50 entered Hayes County High school as Freshmen on September 2, 1946 with an enrollment of thirty-three. After the first semester Jimmie Smoots moved to Palisade and Ervin Beck moved to Shelton. Due to ill health Doris French was compelled to leave school. Mrs. Chase was our sponsor during this year.

At the beginning of our Sophomore year we started with twenty-nine members as Lylas Norman Hudson joined our ranks. The big event of this year was our initiation of the Freshmen. All the Freshmen were compelled to wear their clothes upside down, which caused a great deal of disturbance. Mr. Jones was our sponsor.

At the beginning of our Junior year we lost one more member, Betty Weston, who moved to Palisade. On April 23, 1949, we entertained the Senior class at a Hawaiian banquet. During this time Mrs. Counce was our sponsor.

The original group of Juniors with the exception of Rose Marie Peters registered as Seniors. We believe our class has the distinction of having the largest number of married graduates. This group includes Lylas Norman Hudson, Laura Cary Nitsch, Joyce McLeland Anderjaska and Norma Curran Peterson. Mr. Hanley was chosen as sponsor for our Senior year.

On April, 15, 1950, with Mr. and Mrs. Hanley and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fornoff as chaperons we left for the Black Hills in South Dakota. Altho we had to wade through snow most of the time, it failed to dampen our spirits and our three day outing is one that we will never forget.

Baccalaureate services were held in the Congregational church on May 14, 1950. The following program was presented:

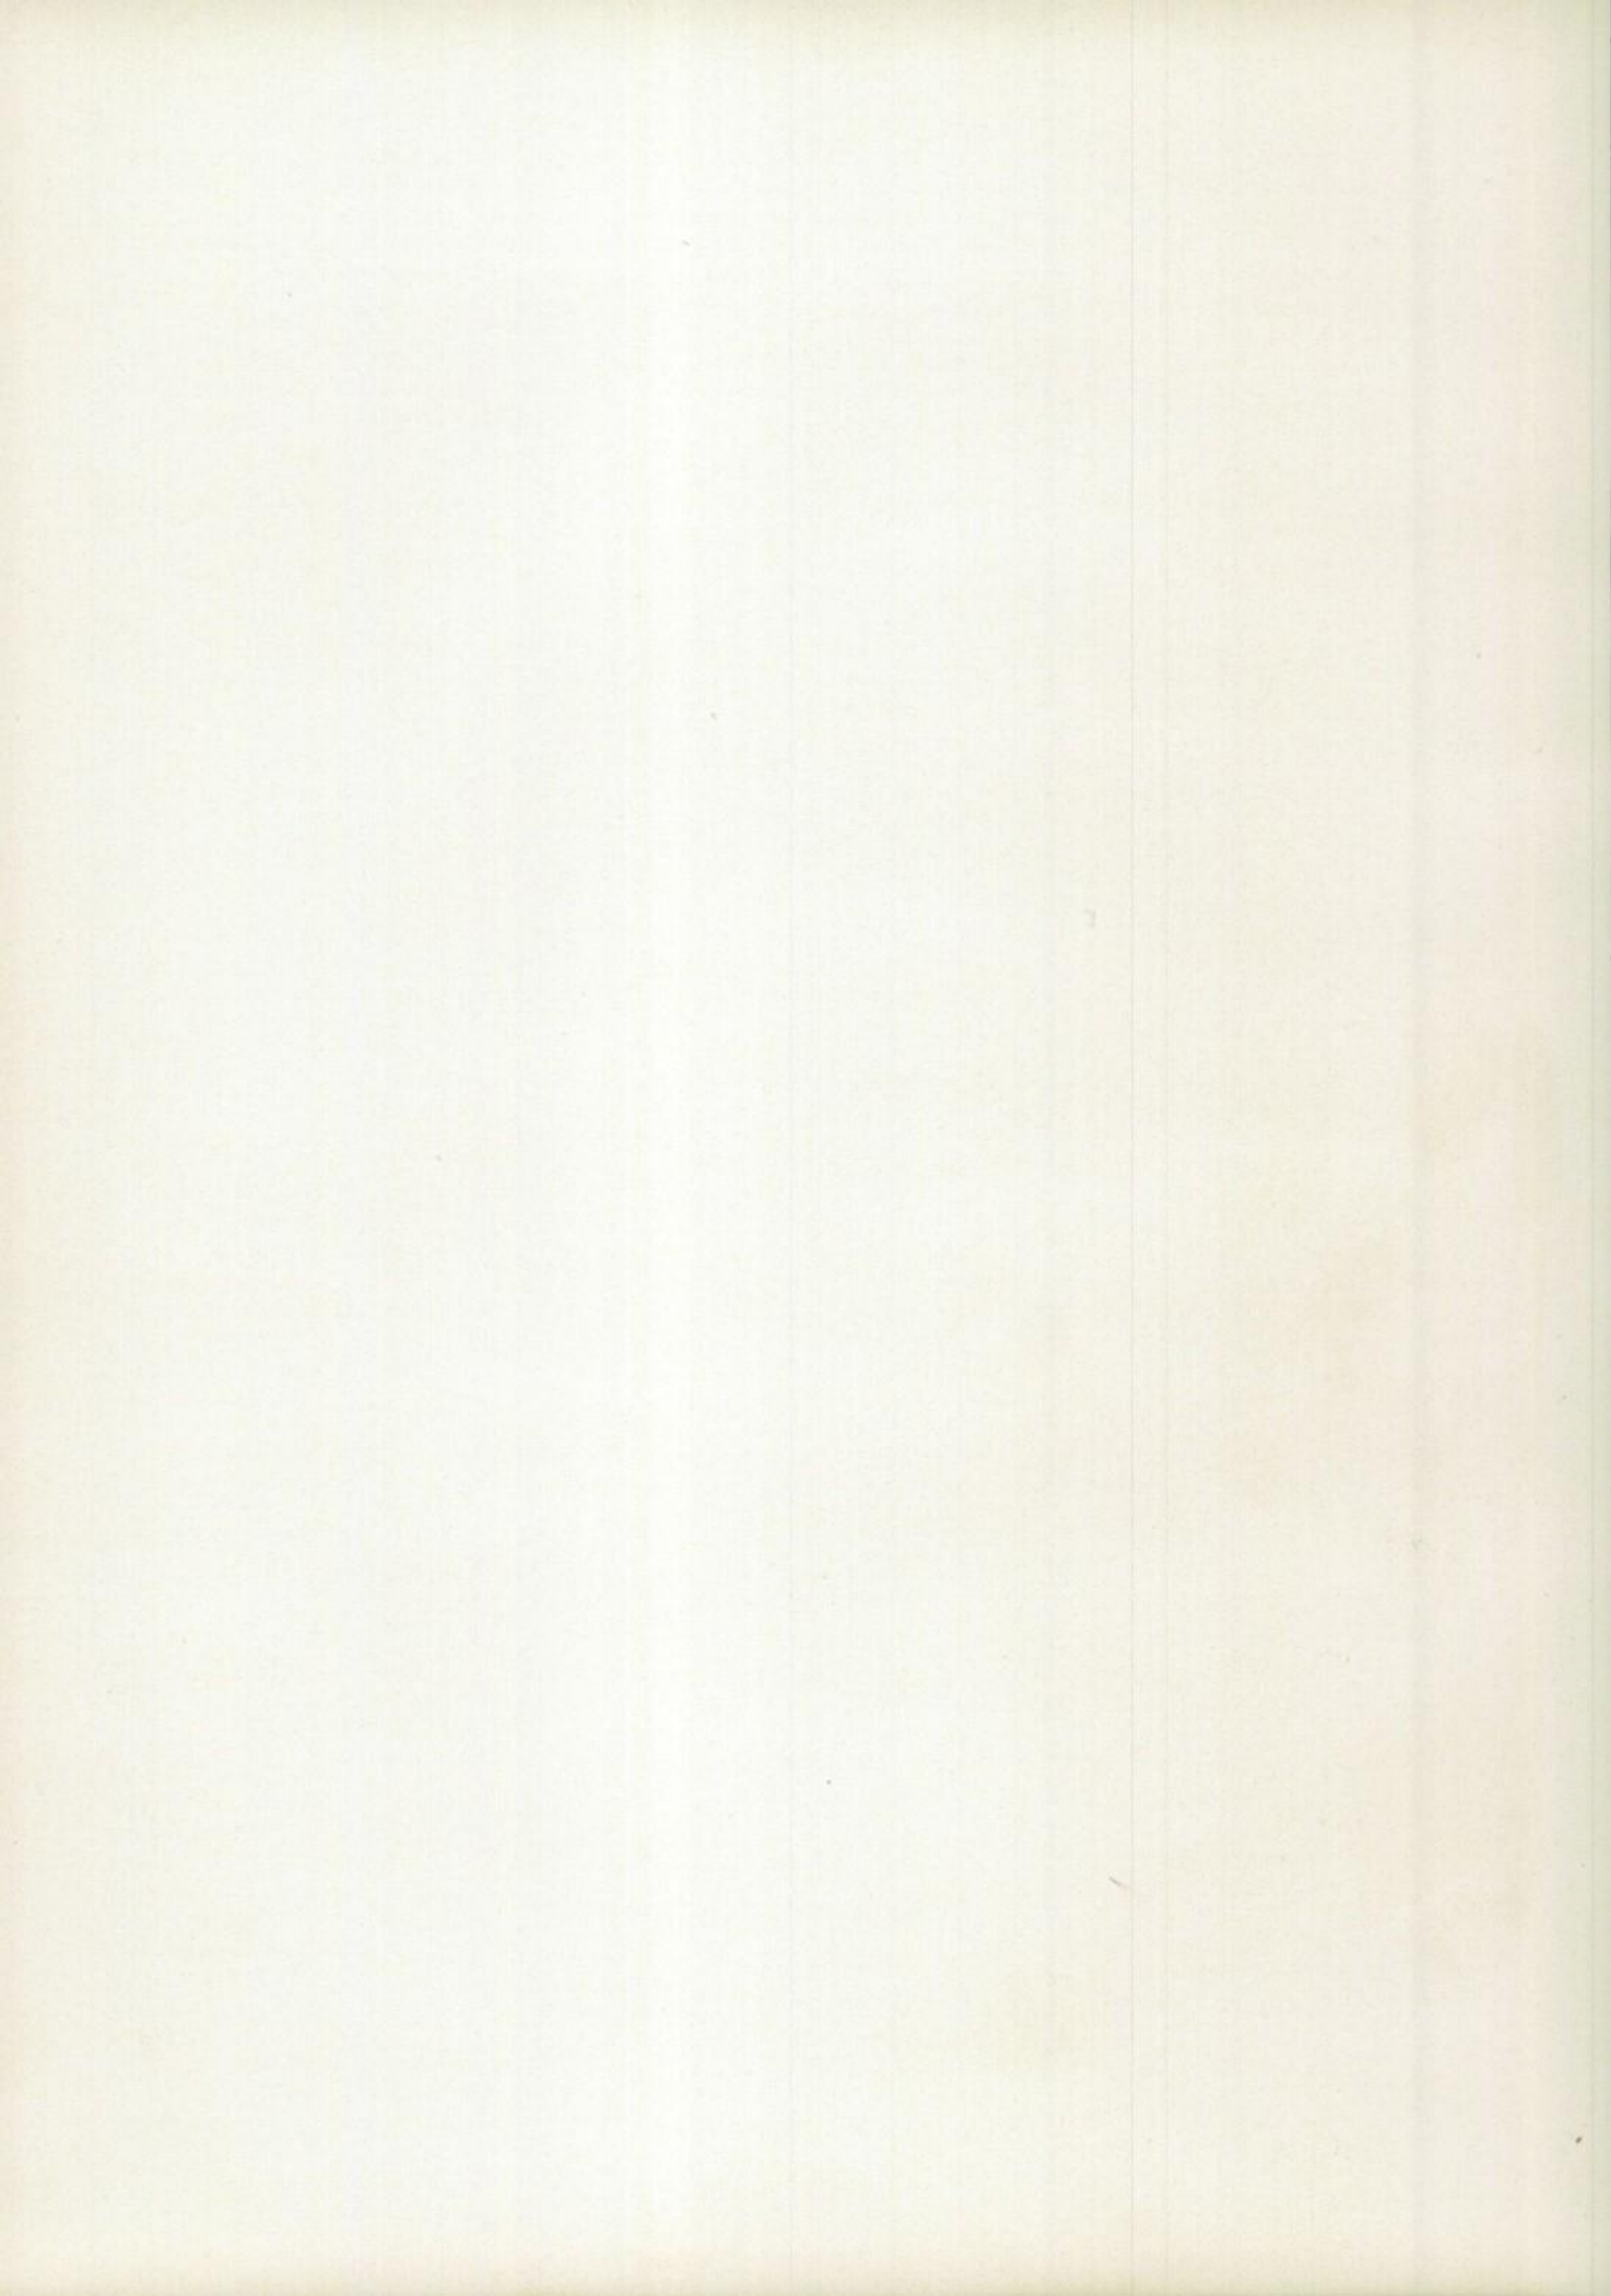

Processional	Gladys Wittwer
Prayer	Rev. Clarence M. Macon
Vocal Solo	Verda Richter
Scripture Reading	Rev. Clarence M. Macon
Piano Solo	Bonnie Richter
Sermon	Rev. Clarence M. Macon

The following Monday and Tuesday we presented our play "Everything's on Ice." Mr. Hanley, our sponsor coached the play. From the proceeds of this play we paid our expenses for sneak day and our school gift.

Thursday May 18, 1950 marked the end of our senior year as our Commencement exercises were given on this day. The program given was as follows:

Processional	Gladys Wittwer
America	Audience
Invocation	Rev. Clarence Macon
Salutatorian	Jane French
Piano Solo	Bonnie Richter
Address "A Life Plan"	G. F. Liebendorfer
Vocal Solo	Doris Nelms

The four having the highest averages were: Bonnie Richter, Jane French, Corrinne Burkert and Laryl Richards.

The following scholarships were presented:
 Normal School
 McCook Junior College
 Church Scholarship

Bonnie Richter
 Jane French
 Corrinne Burkert

These activities marked the end of our days in H.C.H. Although we leave with a feeling of regret, we realize the time has come for us to assume more responsibility. We do sincerely appreciate all the kindnesses and consideration that have been shown to us by all the teachers, and especially we want to thank our class sponsor, Mr. Hanley for all of his efforts in our behalf. These years we will never forget.

Our junior year found us with twenty-four again since Darlene Yonkers Wise entered.

On November 7 and 8, the Juniors presented their class play, "A Ready-Made Family."

Janice Anderjaska and Gladys Wittwer entered the scholastic contest in Kearney. Gladys won first in the Standard Food Test.

We lost another member of our class the second semester of our sophomore year, as Raymond Mosley moved to Colorado and continued his schooling there. Early in the year the Sophomores gave the Freshmen a ne'er to be forgotten initiation. The Freshmen just barely survived from the pig eyes, lipstick and Indian garb.

Many members of the class have done out-standing work in one field or another. Four of the sophomore girls represented Hayes County at the Inter-High School Scholastic contest at Kearney. Phyllis LaShell and Nona Berry took the tests for Latin II; while Gwen Hanley and Doris French enrolled for World History, in which Doris rated second.

One nice thing for next fall--they are not in debt and have a "nest egg" for next year.

Maxine LaShell: "So you and Marvin are getting married. I thought it was a mere flirtation."
Norma Curran: "So did he."

Chas. Peterson wrote home from his new job saying, "Made foreman-feather in my cap."
A few weeks later he wrote home again, saying, "Made manager-another feather in my cap."
After some weeks he wrote again saying, "Fired-send money for bus fare."
His father unfeelingly telegraphed back, "Use feathers and fly home."

Verda Richter (answering telephone): "Twila isn't in just now. This is her 115 pound, 5 foot four, brunette, blue-eyed sister."

Mr. Hanzal: "Lylas define the temperate zone."

Lylas Hudson: "The temperate zone is where no one drinks too much."

Laryl was on a crowded bus one afternoon holding his young nephew on his knees. A pretty blond boarded the car, stepped in front of them and reached for a strap. Laryl eyed her appreciatively, then nudging his nephew said: "My boy, why don't you get up and give the lady your seat?"

Audrey Anderjaska: "Joyce, what is a trousseau?"

Joyce: "A trousseau is the clothes the bride wears 6 or 7 years after she is married."

Maxine LaShell to traffic cop: "Does this ticket cancel the one I got this morning?"

Leura: "Anyone would think that I was nothing but a cook in this house."

Bob: "Not after a couple of meals they wouldn't."

Marcella: "Do you allow a man to kiss you when you are out driving with him?"

Louise: "Never." "Any man who can drive safely while kissing me, isn't giving the kiss the attention it deserves."

Mr. Hanley: "Carl, define pessimist and optimist."

Carl: "A pessimist is a woman who thinks she'll be unable to fit her car into a certain space. An optimist is a man who thinks that she won't try."

Verona: "What is the name of your new song hit?"

Roberta: "Don't Chide Me, Mr. Truman, I'm Only Hoarding Love."

Jim Laird: "What so you want most in a husband-brains-wealth or appearance?"

Arles: "Appearance--and the sooner the better."

Doris to Joe as she arrived home in the car with a smashed fender: "And the cop was so nice about it. He asked if I'd like for the town to have all the telephone poles removed."

At a party one evening Ruth Peterson was wearing around her neck, a thin chain from which hung a tiny gold airplane. Dale stared at it so hard Ruth finally asked him: "Do you like my little airplane?"

"As a matter of fact" he replied, "I wasn't looking at it. I was really admiring the landing field."

Bonnie was attending the movies, and turning to the gentleman behind her said, "If my hat prevents your seeing this picture, I'd be happy to take it off."

"Please don't," said the man, "the hats much funnier than the movie."

Jack Schuman: "What's the best way to teach a girl to swim?"

Ronnie Loomis: "Well, that requires technique. First, you put your left arm around her waist. Then you take her left hand gently and---"

Jack: "She's my cousin."

Ronnie: "Oh! just push her off the dock."

Charlotte Snokes: "My boy friend has been driving a car for two years and never had a wreck!"

Donna Strop: "My boy friend has been driving a wreck for two years and never had a car."

Miss Ehler: "Yes, Dean, what is it?"

Dean Hansen: "I don't want to scare you Miss Ehler, but Pop says if I don't get a better grade some one is going to get a licking."

Rodger Gigax: "Lady your dog is barking at me. Call him off!"

Loretta: "Oh, I can't! I've been calling him Fido for 10 years and if I call him Off he won't answer."

Mrs. Chambers: "Jane, give me a sentence with an object in it."

Jane: "You are very beautiful."

Mrs. Chambers: "What is the object?"

Jane: "To get a good grade."

Corrinne Burkert: "Sometimes my father takes things apart to see what makes them go."

Ronnie: "So what?"

Corrinne: "So you had better go!"

Gale Venhaus: "Jack Schuman, who in your opinion is the outstanding figure in the field of popular music?"

Jack: "Miss LaVerda Greeley."

Lula Hidy: "Dolores you walk with a decided jerk."

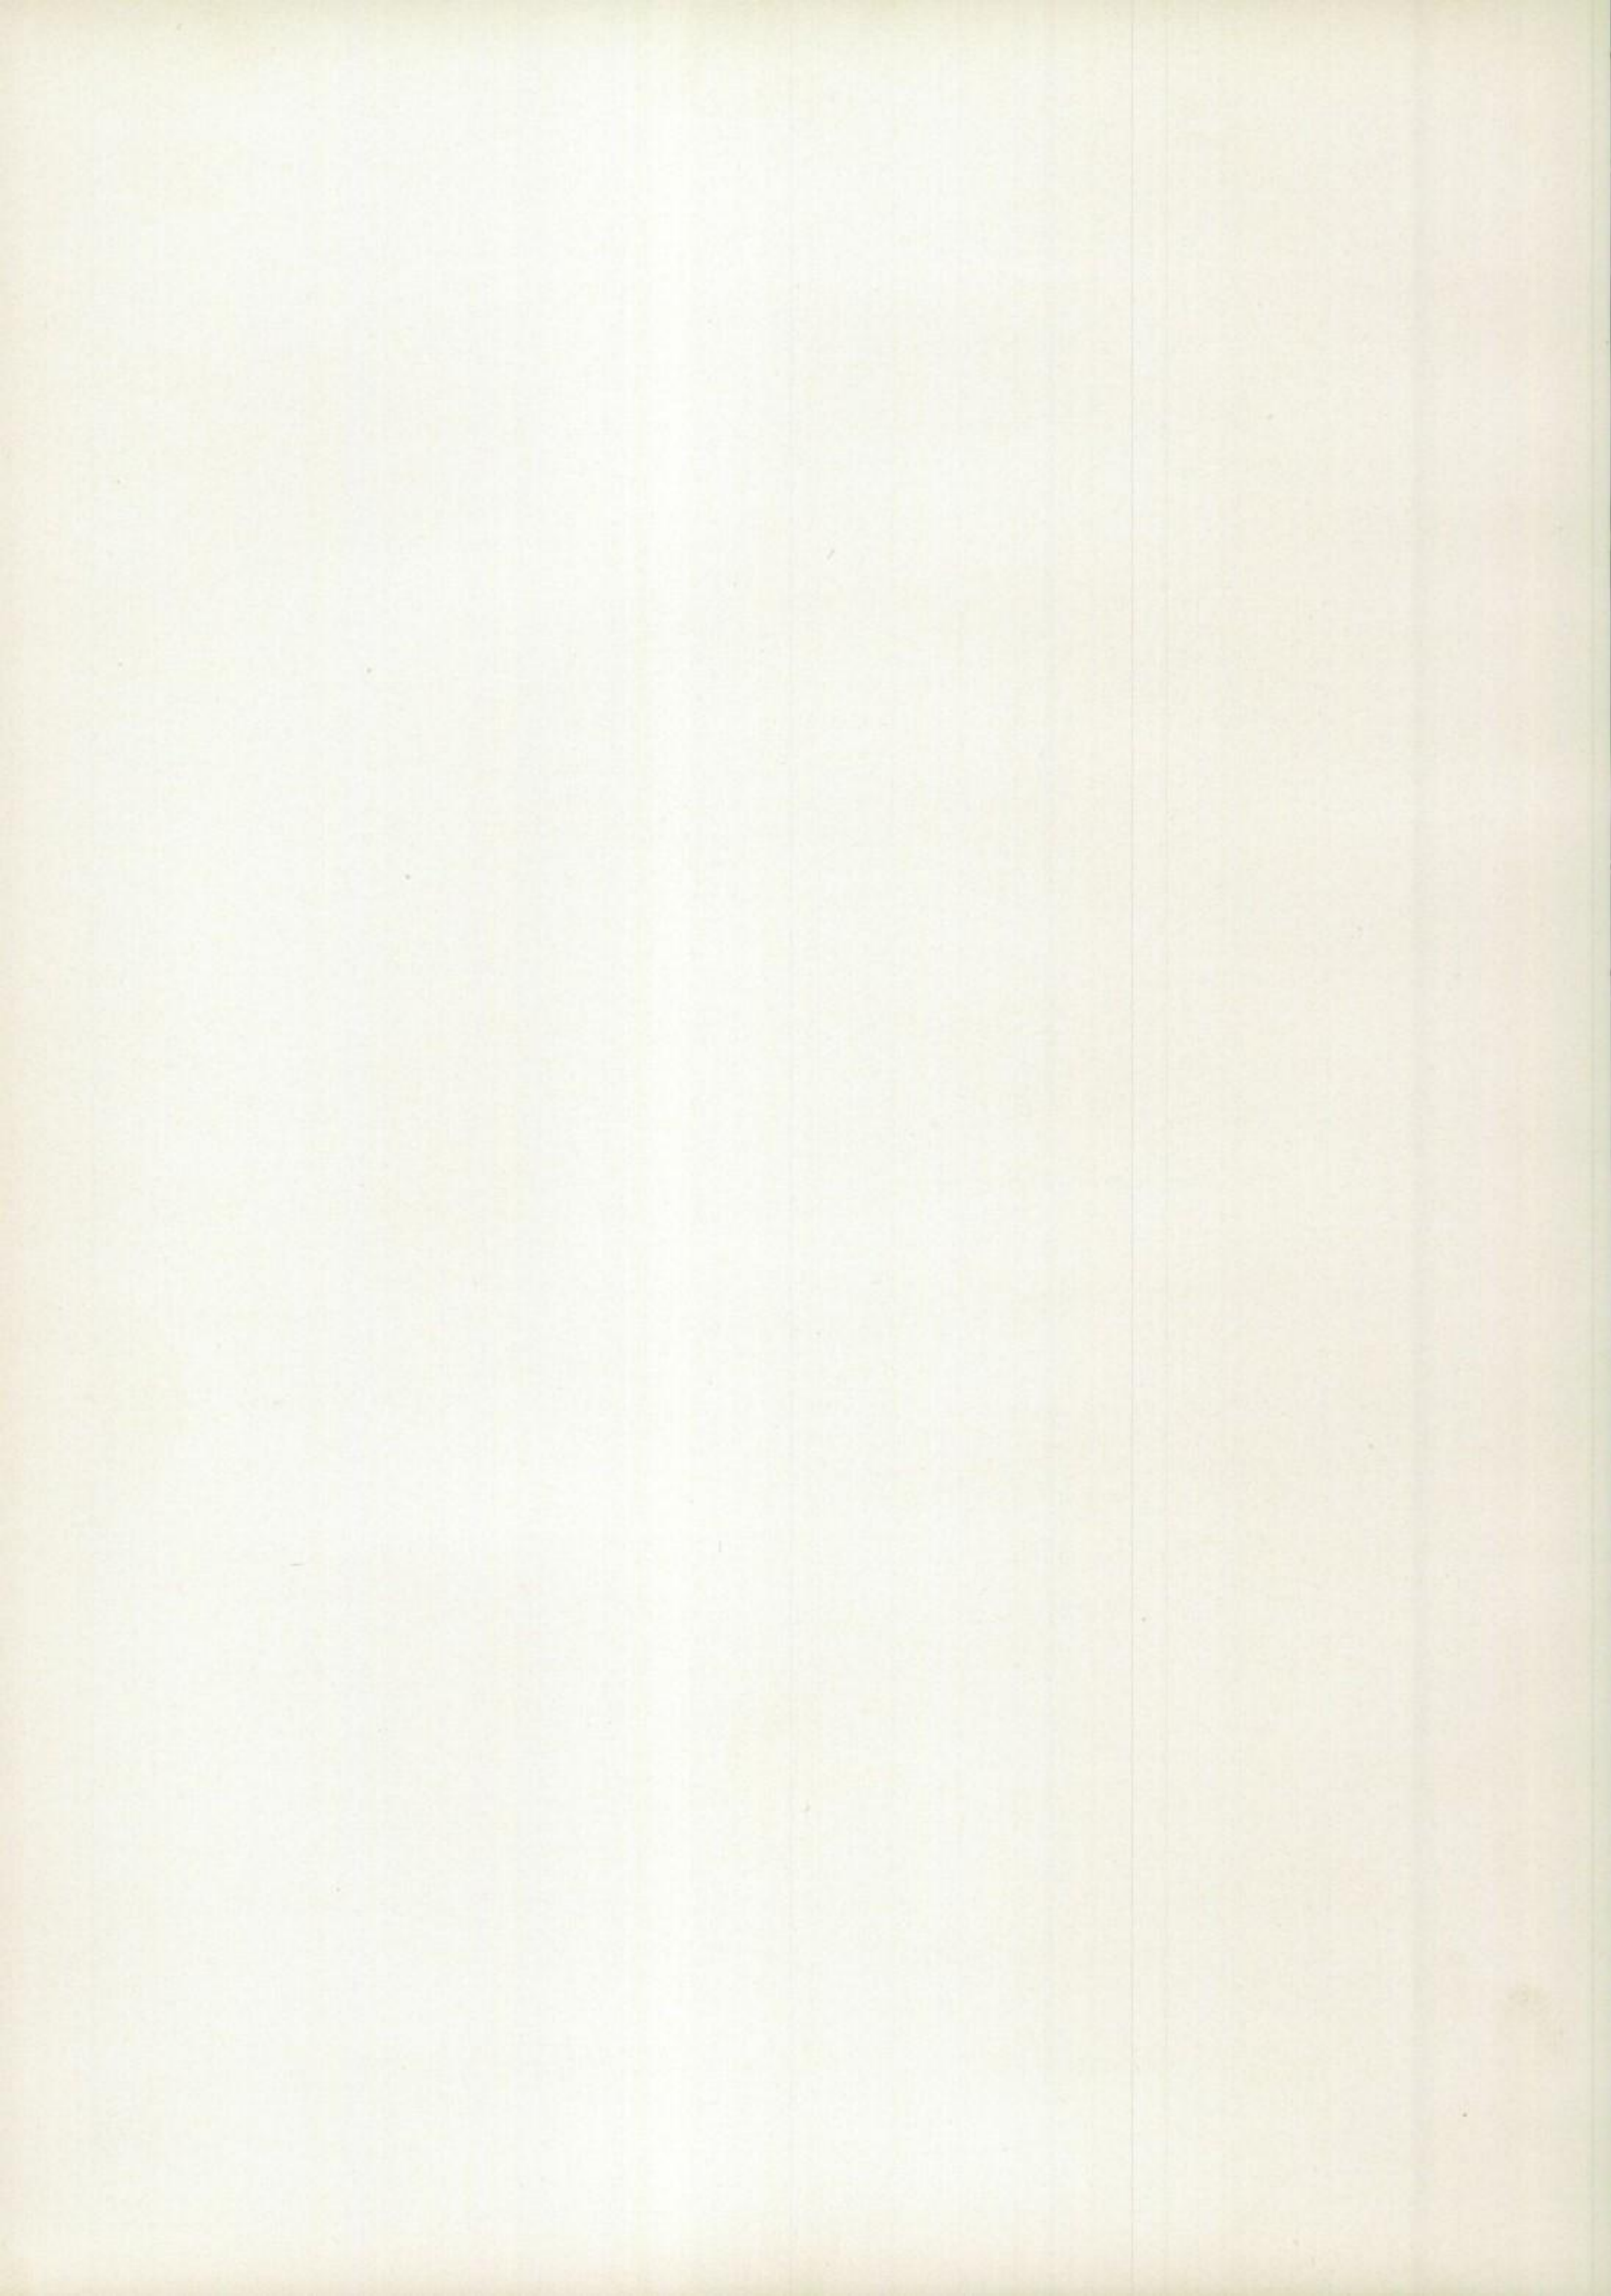

Dolores Hastings: "Yes isn't he?"

Marilyn Anderjaska: "I'm taking Junior to the zoo today."

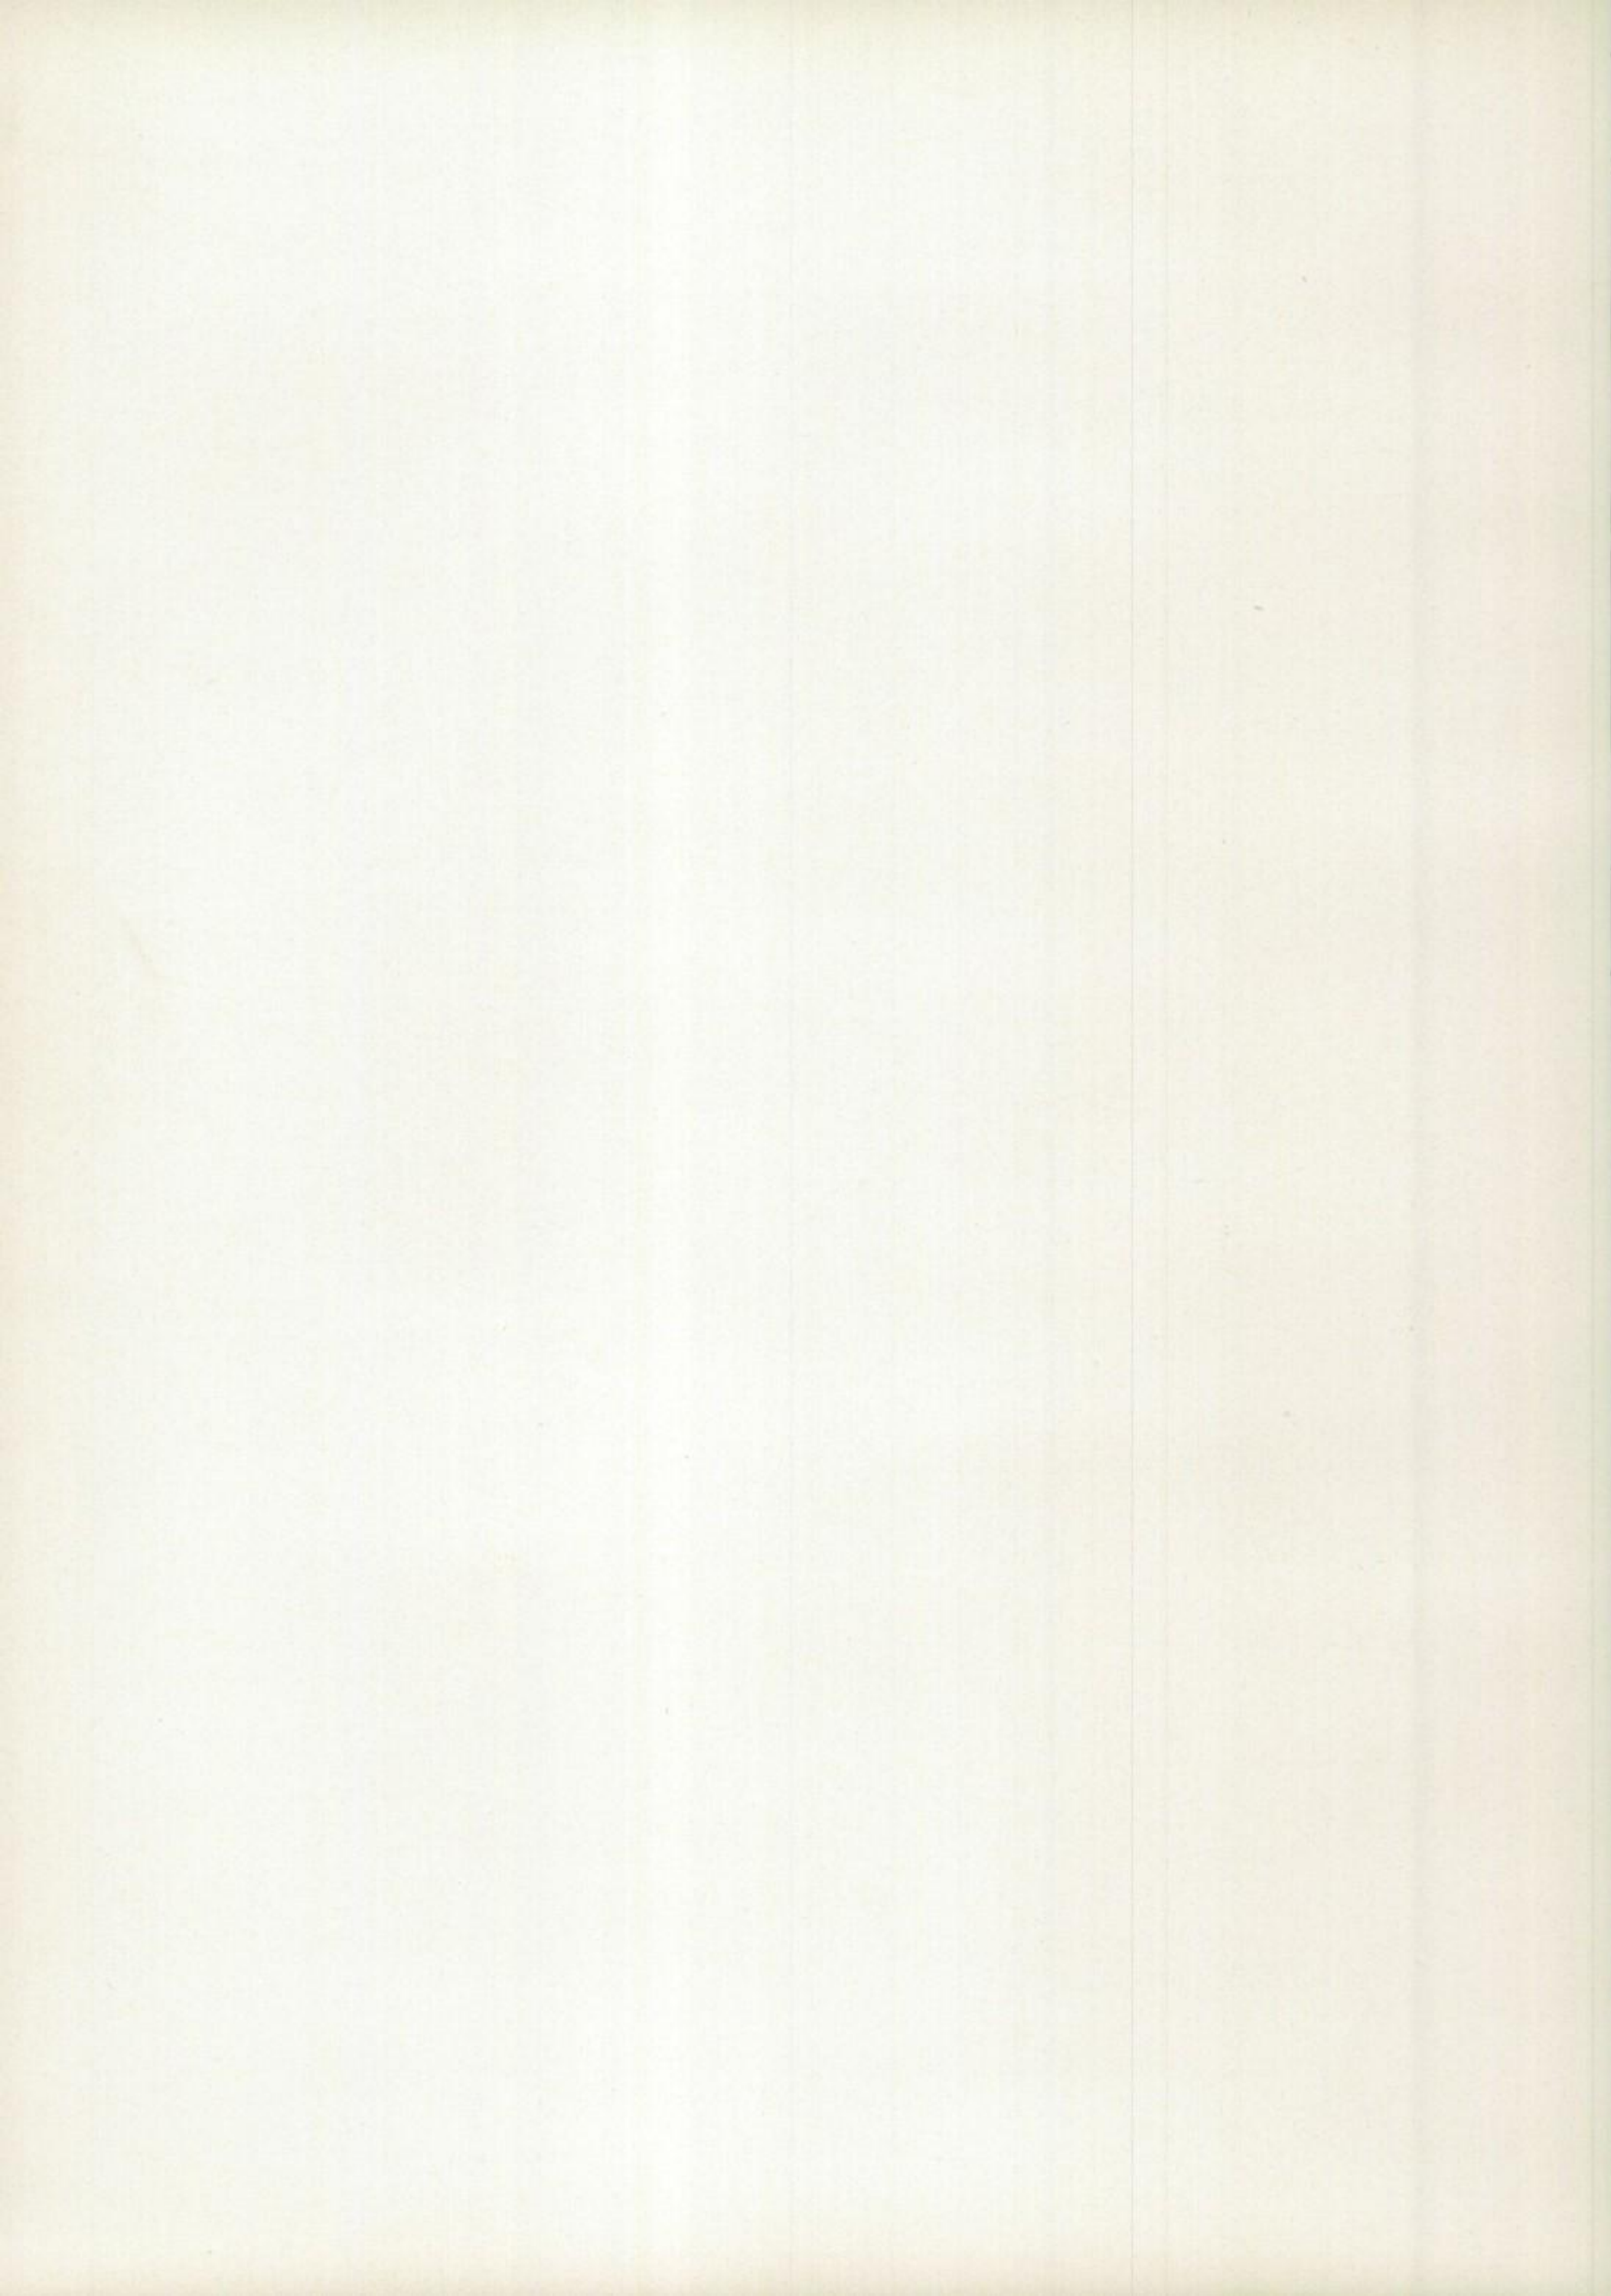

Bryce Fornoff: "Don't worry. If the zoo wants him bad enough they'll send a truck."

Mrs. Counce: "Rodger what is the penalty for bigamy?"

Roger: "More than one mother-in-law."
